

Babafemi Ogungbamila

EVP, Operations, and Technology

Babafemi is an astute technology expert with strong technology capabilities garnered over 18 years of core experience spanning IT infrastructure, Software, and application development in Fintech, and Consulting and software development sectors.

His career commenced at Accenture in 2001 from where he proceeded to Neptune Software (formally Computer Systems Associates), building banking software for the biggest and most successful financial institutions in the country. Babafemi joined Interswitch in 2003 as an Interface Engineer and has since risen through the ranks to become Divisional Head for Software Development and was later promoted to CIO in 2013.

He is an alumnus of the Senior Management Programme (SMP) of Lagos Business School, Pan-Atlantic University, and holds a Computer Engineering Degree from Obafemi Awolowo University, Ife, Nigeria.